How do I use Evidence search?

The screenshot shows the NICE Evidence search page. A red box highlights the 'Evidence search' header and the introductory text: 'Evidence search helps you make better, faster evidence-based decisions. It includes high quality resources from over 800 organisations - like searching your trusted work favourites in one go.' A red arrow points from the 'Journals and databases' menu item to a red box containing the text: 'Journal articles and Healthcare Databases e.g. Medline, Embase and Cinahl are here. NHS OpenAthens login required.' A green box highlights a search bar with 'epileps' entered and a search button. Below the search bar, a dropdown menu shows suggestions: 'epilepsy', 'epilepsy head injury', and 'acetazolamide epilepsy'. A green box contains a tip: 'TIP: Plurals, acronyms and alternative spellings are automatically searched for. Wildcard * truncates e.g. child* finds child, children. Use " " for exact phrase.'

Search Results:

The screenshot shows search results for 'epilepsy head injury'. On the left, a 'Filter' sidebar is visible with categories: Evidence type (Guidance and Policy (326), Guidance (150), Policy and Strategy (31), Quality Indicators (7), Prescribing and Technical Information (136), Safety Alerts (2), Secondary Evidence (229)), Area of interest, Source, and Date. The main results area shows '645 results for epilepsy head injury' and 'Showing results 1 to 10. View options for downloading these results.' A green box points to the 'View options' link with the text: 'To select results to export to CSV or RIS format click here'. Below this, a result is shown with the title 'Pharmacological treatments for preventing epilepsy following traumatic head injury' and source 'Cochrane Database of Systematic Reviews'. A green box points to the title with the text: 'Click title to view'. Another green box points to the 'Filter' sidebar with the text: 'Select Filters to make results more specific. You can choose more than one'.

Journals and Databases

Please see additional guides available on the library website www.nhft.nhs.uk/library for full details of this resource.

In brief; this page provides a link to carry out an advanced database search using HDAS (e.g. Medline and CINAHL) to find the articles you need on a topic (NHS OpenAthens log-in required); a Journals A-Z Search (NHS OpenAthens log-in required) which gives details of the journals available either full text electronically and/or held in print.

If you do not have an NHS OpenAthens account there is a link for registering for one.
